Re: "Made in America" Declaration

"Made in America" is an FTC (Federal Trade Commission) concept.

With detailed discussion and many examples, the FTC offers no standardized certificate or icon. It does not authorize any company or its products. FTC DISCUSSION as made in America.

However, there is an independent licensing outfit in Ohio that allows businesses to use their ICON ("made in America") if you comply with their regulations and, first and foremost, the FTC rules.

I have reviewed every SDS sheet of our products. Protecto Wrap Company substantially transforms (an FTC term) domestic and some imported raw materials into finished products in Colorado. We can state that our products are "MADE IN AMERICA".
